TRANSLATED ABSTRACT:

The Palm Beach Post dedicates a long article to her.

This article talks about Barbara Stella's success, who after an established career in Italy where she had her laboratory in Ferrara for over twenty years, moves to West Palm Beach, Florida.

In Italy, Maria Barbara Stella carried out important works amongst the paintings of Tiepolo and Veronese and other well-known artists, on behalf of the Department of Artistic and Historical Heritage of the Ministry of Artistic and Cultural Heritage, the Museums, the Archbishop's Curia, and the Foundation of the Savings Bank.

It all started with the invite sent to Maria Barbara Stella by a Museum in Toronto, then the contacts increased reaching her in Florida. Established and appreciated in Palm Beach County, Maria Barbara Stella has worked on prestigious assignments.

The Palm Beach Post dedicated to her a long article, that has been circulated on Facebook, and that recognized her blazoned preparation, the one she employed to render beauty to many masterpieces in Italy.
